U.S. Officials Expect Red OK On Ike's Plan

Negotiations Oct. 31 Seen on System To Curb Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials predicted today Russia probably will accept President Eisenhower's proposal to start negotiations Oct. 31 on a worldwide system to prevent sneak nuclear weapons tests.

Eisenhower offered Friday to suspend U.S. nuclear tests for at least one year, provided such negotiations got under way.

His only other condition was that Russia continue its 4½-month-old halt in Soviet tests. The Russians announced the halt after completing a test series.

In a statement and a note to the Kremlin, Eisenhower called for talks in New York under United Nations auspices. Results would be reported through Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to the U.N. General Assembly and the Security Council.

In Russia, radio Moscow and the Tass news agency reported Eisenhower's proposal without comment. There was no comment from Soviet officials.

In Congress, both Republicans and Democrats voiced praise for the offer.

But Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif.) objected strongly to a part of the Eisenhower statement that left the way open for resumption of tests unless, among other things, there was satisfactory progress toward disarmament.

Holifield said such a condition could kill the plan.

U.S. officials said their expectation of Soviet acceptance was based primarily on results of a seven-week Geneva meeting of scientists from the United States, Russia and six other countries on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

The scientists agreed it was technically possible to create a worldwide system of inspection stations, reportedly about 180, to make sure nobody cheated on any agreement to ban nuclear tests.

Britain also offered to suspend its tests after a projected series is completed this fall, and to participate in detailed diplomatic talks to set up the monitoring system conceived by the scientists at Geneva.

It was learned authoritatively that this was the thinking behind the Eisenhower proposal.

An end to nuclear tests is no disarmament measure in itself. But it may provide an opening wedge to achieve genuine disarmament.

Eisenhower said U.S. tests might be resumed after one year unless a monitoring system was developed and unless there were prospects of agreement on such disarmament measures as a cut-off in nuclear production, reduction in atomic-hydrogen stockpiles and troop cutbacks.

Nixon Talk Slated At Ohio GOP Parley

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A television broadcast by vice president Richard M. Nixon highlights the Republican state convention Oct. 9, reports GOP state headquarters.

Nixon's talk will be carried over a statewide television network between 8 and 9 p.m. Other speakers on the program will include Gov. C. William O'Neill and U.S. Sen. John Bricker. The TV program will originate from the Palace Theater here.

O'Neill and Bricker also will address a luncheon meeting in Veterans Memorial during the convention. About 900 delegates are expected.

GOP State Chairman Ray C. Bliss said Friday that the Platform Committee will hold hearings Oct. 7-8 to draft plans for adoption by the convention.

U.S. High Court Justice Holds Key To Racial Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Charles Evans Whittaker may hold the answer to whether racial integration must be resumed at Little Rock's Central High School when it reopens Sept. 2.

But the answer will not come before next Thursday, probably later.

It was uncertain whether Whittaker would rule alone, or with other members of the nine-man court.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People Friday asked Whittaker for an order removing all legal barriers to immediate re-entry of Negro pupils into Central High, a focal point in the far-ranging integration controversy.

The NAACP action seeks, in part, to set aside an order of the U.S. Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis that would delay integration at the Arkansas high school until the Supreme Court has ruled on the main issues in the case.

The petition was directed to Whittaker because the full court is in summer recess, until Oct. 6, and he has jurisdiction over the Eighth Circuit, which includes Arkansas.

With Whittaker on his way to Los Angeles, Thurgood Marshall of New York, an attorney for the NAACP, filed the petition with the office of the Supreme Court clerk.

The court's deputy clerk, Edmund P. Cullinan, Friday sent the petition via air mail special delivery to Whittaker in Los Angeles, where the justice plans

Ike Claims Defense Fund Is Too Large

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, with a critical blast at Congress for giving him more than he wanted, has signed the $39,602,827 defense appropriation bill.

In a statement accompanying his signing of the measure Friday, Eisenhower criticized Congress for:

1. Giving him more than one billion dollars above the amount he said he feels is necessary to maintain the nation's security.

2. Placing mandatory minimum strengths on the Army's reserve components.

Eisenhower said the mandatory floors for the reserve forces introduced rigidity into the defense structure and would make it hard to follow the flexible course recently approved by Congress in the Defense Reorganization Act.

"Moreover," Eisenhower said, "such restrictions are wasteful of money and resources at a time when essential programs are placing mounting demands on both."

The bill provides money to maintain 2,580,000 uniformed regulars, 300,000 Army reserves and a National Guard averaging 400,000 men. In each instance, the levels topped those proposed by Eisenhower for this fiscal year ending next June 30.

Eisenhower could impound money for manpower levels bigger than he wanted.

The Air Force will get $17,877,624,000, compared with a requested $17,652,854,000; the Army $8,992,859,000, compared with $8,953,535,000; the Navy and Marine Corps, $11,359,427,000, compared with $10,870,181,000 requested.

Fumes Halt Fuming Kitty

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — When policeman H. D. Bayless was called out to remove a skunk plaguing a local housewife, the kitty took refuge in a garage.

Bayless backed his scout car into the garage, left the motor running, closed the door and sat down to wait. The skunk keeled over dead.

Ryukyu Islands Due To Use Yankee Dollar

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — Lt. Gen. Donald P. Booth, U.S. high commissioner of the Ryukyu Islands, announced today that American greenbacks will become the official currency in the Ryukyus.

No specific date was given in the announcement.

Booth said initial steps already have been taken to retire the Yen, a special blocked yen which has served as Ryukyuan currency since the end of World War II. One U.S. dollar is worth 120 Yen.

State Fair Sees Kids Mob Singer, O'Neill Sell Chicken

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Visitors to the 104th Ohio State Fair will be pleased to learn that:

1. Tommy Sands is still in one piece, and

2. Gov. C. William O'Neill sold the chickens at $4.35 a pound.

Little else is clear except that the 17,826 paid fairgoers at Friday's opening of the buckeye state annual exposition apparently had the time of their life.

Sands' predicament started when a howling horde of teen-agers, most of them female, broke through the south fence and rushed to the foot of the grand stand arena where their young idol was doing his guitar-strumming, hip-twisting, singing act.

Then later in the afternoon, while Sands was trying to catch 40 winks between shows, the teen-

Youths Win Top Awards As Plowmen

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Two rugged farm youths with a talent for cutting a wide, deep furrow reigned from the pinnacle of American plowdom today.

Their victories in the 16th National Plowing Contest were a tribute to youth.

George W. Lininger, of Springfield, R.D. 2, Mich., wound up as the winner of the level land plowing contest Friday.

The bashful, 21-year-old dairy farmer was the youngest ever to win this national event.

His triumph came the day after Charles L. Stamp, 23, Watkins Glen, N. Y., fruit grower, grabbed top honors in contour plowing. He was the second most youthful farmer to ever wind up as America's premier plowman.

Both will represent the United States in the world championships in Northern Ireland next year.

Clad in dungarees and a bright blue and white plaid shirt, Lininger was a picture of surprise when judges broke the news of his triumph.

"I was surprised to win" he said with a happy grin. "It was just plain luck."

His furrow work on a half-acre plot brought him 370 points out of a possible 400. The runnerup was David H. Bay, 30, a dairy farmer from Canandaigua, R. D. 1, Ontario County, N. Y.

Some 100,000 farmers and other onlookers turned out for the second and final day of the plowing contests and soil conservation exposition. The first day crowd on Thursday was estimated at about 90,000.

Blood Unit Due Monday

The American Red Cross Bloodmobile will set up headquarters Monday at First Methodist Church, Pickaway and Main Sts.

The unit will be in operation from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. Local committeemen have sounded an urgent need for blood donors. They pointed out that Pickaway County's blood program shows a deficit in that donations have not matched the amount of blood used for area patients.

A canteen operated by ladies of the AME Church will serve refreshments to donors.

Another specialty will be free taxi service. Donors may get a free ride to and from the church by calling 900.

Donors desiring a convenient appointment time are asked to contact the local Red Cross Chapter office.

Koreans Offer Relief To South Koreans

TOKYO (AP) — Communist North Korea has offered relief goods to South Korean unemployed and orphans, Pyongyang radio said today. The broadcast said North Korea offered rice, cloth, maritime products and footwear.

South Korea refuses to recognize the Red regime in North Korea and was not considered likely to accept the offer.

TEAMSTER HUDDLE — Robert (Barney) Baker, $125 a week Teamster Union organizer, talks with union President James R. Hoffa (right) during a recess of the Labor Rackets Committee, in Washington. Baker was called back to answer questions about testimony that he enabled Mrs. Ruth Brougher to live in plush Miami surroundings in 1955 while she awaited the outcome of an appeal from a manslaughter conviction. On the stand, he shouted denials that he knew what happened to the missing $300,000 ransom in the Greenlease kidnapping case.

Norway Shuns Dispute Over A-Sub 'Danger'

BERGEN, Norway (AP) — Norway's second-largest city prepared a hearty welcome today for the USS Skate amid foreign controversy on whether nuclear-powered vessels are safe in heavily populated areas.

Britain joined Denmark in saying they should be kept away from large cities because a collision or similar accident might endanger the populations.

But the man who built the only atomic submarines afloat, U.S. Rear Adm. Hyman Rickover, said they are designed to avoid all possible accidents, including collisions.

The argument was started by Denmark Thursday. It refused to let the Skate visit Copenhagen for fear of a collision or similar accident.

Timothy's poem was read at his funeral Friday. Somehow it brightened the little Church of the Flowers in a way adult speakers could not.

Getty himself did not attend. His former wife, Mrs. Louise Dudley Lynch Getty, the boy's mother, was present.

Timothy was a friendly, outgoing boy, a bit on the philosophical side, perhaps because of illness. He underwent several operations for a brain tumor.

The highlight of the Christian Science rites was the reading of Timothy's poem:

"God protects me through the night.
"God will help me each fight.
"Because His love is oh, so dear,
"I know in God I cannot fear.
"God will show me, day by day,
"If I follow in His way."

Lake Michigan Diversion Bill Hits Sharp Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foes of increased Lake Michigan diversion appeared today to be winning their fight to keep the measure from coming to a vote before Congress adjourns.

The bill to permit increased diversion from the lake by Chicago was laid aside by the Senate shortly before midnight Friday night in favor of two major appropriations bills. Debate had started earlier.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) said "there is great danger that the bill will be filibustered to death" if all major legislation is completed before resuming debate on the bill. His protests were shouted down on a voice vote.

Sen. Frank Lausche (D-Ohio), a foe of the measure, retorted "it will be for the good of the country if it is talked to death."

Sleep Sickness Spreads

TOKYO (AP) — Sleeping sickness is reaching epidemic proportions in Japan and South Korea. Health agencies report 202 dead and 1,128 ill, mostly in Korea where only 24 of the known cases recovered.

Many Major Matters Still Face Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — This promised to be a hectic day for Congress as it drove to wind up its nearly eight-month session.

Foreign aid topped an imposing array of matters still to be acted on before the legislators can call it quits for this year. Leaders were hoping for adjournment of the second session of the 85th Congress by sometime tonight.

Items awaiting action included legislation dealing with the national debt limit, federal aid to education, renegotiation of government defense contracts, benefit payments to retired railroad workers, the government's security program and appropriations measures.

As if these weren't enough, a last minute drive developed to try to push through a trimmed down 800-million-dollar federal housing and community facilities bill. Legislation introduced by Sens. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) and J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) combined two measures passed by the Senate earlier in the year, but which met defeat in the House.

Housing Administrator Albert Cole said the revised bill was unacceptable to the Eisenhower administration and could hardly be regarded as a serious effort to reach agreement on sound housing legislation this year.

The 3½-billion-dollar foreign aid money bill had top priority in the Senate, where a final fight was in the offing over proposals to make new cuts. Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) said he planned a two-hour speech in support of amendments to trim the measure by 150 million dollars.

The House has passed an aid money bill totaling $3,078,000,000. Both House and Senate made considerable progress Friday.

The Senate voted a temporary eight-billion-dollar hike in the federal debt limit to a peacetime high of 288 billion dollars. The bill was passed 57-20 after proceedings were stalled by a two-hour speech in which Sen. George W. Malone (R-Nev.) decried what he said was "America's attempt to 'support the world.'"

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said the Senate had to go along with the administration's request to raise the debt ceiling because the government faces a 12-billion-dollar deficit this year.

However, Byrd succeeded in tacking on an amendment whereby the administration would have to appear before Congress again next year for a new look at the debt problem.

The Senate bill would authorize a permanent ceiling of 283 billion dollars, with a temporary hike to 288 billion through June 30, 1959.

The measure was returned to the House, whose version called for a 285-billion-dollar permanent limit and a ceiling of 288 billion through June 30, 1960.

The permanent debt ceiling now is 275 billions, with a temporary top of 280 billions.

The Senate passed two other measures and sent them back to the House.

One was a compromise providing for a four-year, 900-million-dollar program of federal aid to education, heavily accented toward science and mathematics.

The other was a stopgap six-month extension of an act permitting the government to renegotiate defense contracts. This act carries authority for recovery of excessive profits and reduction of prices on military hardware.

This Guy's Cash Literally Flew

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Attorney Ben Henderson, a coin collector, came in possession of four rare pennies valued at $40. He rubbed them with olive oil and placed them on a window sill so the sun would turn all of them the same color.

A few minutes later he saw pigeons flying away with them.

CHS Seniors Please Crowd With Big 10 Cents Worth

The 500-odd persons who took in the Circleville High School senior carnival last night were in general agreement—it was the biggest ten cent's worth seen in these parts for a while.

Favored with excellent weather, the show was sponsored by the staff of the high school yearbook, "The Circle."

Strictly a money-making venture, the carnival brought out a display of dramatic and musical talent which surprised an enthusiastic audience.

The talent display came in the latter part of the evening when high school youngsters put on a variety show. Adults commented that the audience reaction was the highest spirited to rock the staid old high school auditorium in many a year.

A DOZEN acts were presented—all gaining solid applause.

Perhaps the biggest single money-making attraction on the carnival lot was the ducking pond. Supervised by Brent Bell and Cal Ellis, their biggest job was to find volunteers who would sit on a perch to be dumped into a tank of water when a target was hit by a patron's accurate baseball throw. Lacking volunteers, Bell was the first man on the perch.

He held away until well after supertime and, when he had turned blue from the chilly dunking, was succeeded by Tom Greeno. The latter goaded youngsters out of the gallery until Ellis finally wound up the evening.

How much net profit the venture made toward publication costs of the 1959 "Circle" was not known immediately. Deena Musselman, editor-in-chief of "The Circle," said some outstanding bills had not yet been received.

But whatever the net, those who attended agreed that the "kids put on a whale of a show."

EUB Session Makes Yearly Assignments

The eighth annual session of the Southeast Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church closed Friday afternoon with the ordination of elders and pastoral assignments, with Bishop L. L. Baughman presiding.

The following ministers from the Group 2 South Central District were assigned to the following churches: Rev. Walter Whitaker, Reese, Rev. Ross Gonsler, Cox Memorial, Rev. John McRoberts, Athens, and the Rev. Lloyd DeLong, Franklin Church near Westerville.

New ministers assigned to take their places are: Rev. Fred Brown, Cedar Hill, Rev. L. S. Thompson, Halleysville, Rev. Wayne Fowler, Laurelsville, and the Rev. Lowell Bassett, Stoutsville.

The Rev. O. F. Gibbs has been reassigned to the First Evangelical United Brethren Church here for his fifth year. Rev. Wilbur Crace has returned to the Pickaway Circuit and the Rev. H. Dale Rough has been returned to the local Calvary EUB Church.

The Rev. Homer Thompson Jr. will remain at his church in Amanda as will Rev. Carl Groff in Ashville. Rev. Raymond Welch stays at Chillicothe First, Rev. Leonard Stevens at the Chillicothe Circuit, Rev. Maxine Krisher at the Laurelsville Circuit and Rev. L. W. Tuttle at Tyler Memorial. A minister will be furnished for the Yellow Bud Church.

Blood Donors Sent Plea

The Pickaway County Chapter of the American Red Cross has received a special appeal for assistance in meeting the unusual needs at the Columbus Regional Blood Center. It was reported today by Mrs. Roloff Wolford, executive secretary.

During the next 10 days four heart surgery cases have been scheduled, using the "Heart-Lung" machine. From 10 to 14 pints of blood are needed for each of these operations.

"Three of these patients require O positive blood. The other is AB positive, which is a very rare type. Only about three or four out of a 100 people have this type blood," Mrs. Wolford stated.

There are also many replacement needs for county residents who have received large quantities of blood.

It is the hope of Monty Kirkwood and his committee that each person will recognize his responsibility as a citizen of the county and, if eligible, pay a visit to the Bloodmobile unit at the First Methodist Church on Monday, between the hours of 11 and 5 p. m.

Saltcreek Holds Grange Meeting

The Saltcreek Valley Grange met in regular session Tuesday evening with Worthy Master Francis Fraunfelder in charge.

One candidate was given the third and fourth degree obligation. The grange voted to sell safety scotch tape.

It was announced that Judge William Ammer will speak at the next grange meeting. A picnic was planned for the second meeting in September.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraunfelder presented contests for the Juvenile and Subordinate Grange. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Miami Trace School Bond Issue Halted

A tentative agreement in principle permitting the Miami Trace school district, which includes the New Holland local school district, to complete sale of school bonds, has failed because of a legal obstacle, it was disclosed August 15 by informed sources.

The tentative arrangement would have permitted the Miami Trace district to proceed immediately with completion of bond sale arrangements but delay any expenditure of money for construction pending final action on recommendations from a county-wide school survey.

The verbal agreement was reached three weeks ago between Miami Trace board members and two of four plaintiffs in two court actions which have blocked consummation of the bond sale.

Representatives of both sides agreed on a possible compromise, but the stumbling block was the method of enforcing the agreement. Bond attorneys ruled that the injunctive action by a court against a pending of the bond money, as requested by present litigants, would cloud the bond issue.

J. A. WHITE, of the Cincinnati bond house of J. A. White and Co., one of the group of three firms submitting the low bid on the $1,652,500 Miami Trace issue on July 9, told a Washington C. H. newspaper that he was asking for a return of a certified check in the amount of $10,525, which was deposited at the time of the bond sale.

White, who said he is taking this action with "considerable regret," added that this probably means a loss of $60,000 to Fayette County and New Holland taxpayers in interest rates alone, exclusive of the amount spent in legal fees.

"This loss could easily amount to as much as $100,000 before the bonds are ever delivered," White said. "The great pity of it," White said, "is that the school children are being denied the facilities to which they are entitled."

White, who called the recent meeting in an effort to iron out differences between the Miami Trace and the Hightons, said that both sides were "cooperative" and that a mutually satisfactory agreement later was prepared in writing by the attorneys for both sides.

Representing the litigants at the conference were Sam B. Marting and Mrs. C. Elton Rhoad. Marting's suit against the bonds was filed in Fayette County common pleas court while Mrs. Rhoad brought her mandamus action in the court of appeals.

Both agreed in principle to withdraw their suits in a mutually satisfactory agreement could be prepared by counsel which would incorporate a Miami Trace board promise that it would spend no money from the bond sale until the survey ordered by the state board of education could be completed and recommendations either approved by the board or acted upon at a general election.

ALTHOUGH the survey is to be completed by March 1, the Miami Trace board agreed to withhold any spending until after the election of November 1960, if a final decision on survey recommendations could not be reached before that time.

In event of "unusual delay" in submitting recommendations the present litigants were to show cause in common pleas court why there should be an extension of time.

A representative of Squire, Sanders and Dempsey, Cleveland, Miami Trace bond counsel, had asked that the suits be dismissed in their entirety to free the board from litigation but attorneys for the litigants asked that an injunction action be left pending to guarantee that no bond money be spent until the survey results are determined.

Alternative proposals by the Miami Trace counsel, providing a three day grace period without pending court action were not satisfactory to the litigants, and bond counsel refused to approve the sale if an injunction action were pending at the time of bond delivery.

Marting, who told bonding house representatives that he represents approximately 1,600 taxpayers in his present objection to the Miami Trace course of action, told newspaper representatives that "our people expected a binding agreement and would not be satisfied with less."

"The spirit of both sides as exhibited at the conference is indicative of what can be done by sitting down together. A lot of things could be worked out at conferences of this kind," he said.

"IT IS TOO bad that we were close to an agreement and failed to reach it," Marting commented. "The survey is on its way and will be completed in March. With the cooperation of everyone there should be a decision in November. We will go along with whatever the survey shows, and if we are wrong we will be the first to help Miami Trace with its program."

Taylor Groff, president of the Miami Trace board of education,

Schneider Gets Second in State Tractor Contest

Roger Schneider placed second yesterday in the tractor operator's contest at the Ohio State Fair.

Schneider, son of Mrs. Mary Schneider, Route 4, was one of 50 contestants and ended three points behind the ultimate winner. He has been a 4-H club member for eight years and this is his fourth year in the tractor club.

The contest consisted of a written test, wagon and manure spreader handling with tractor and tractor safety.

Terry Reed placed third in the state in the 4-H market swine showmanship competition. He is a member of the Duvall Go-Getters, Ashville. Terry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reed.

OTHERS showing in the contest were Larry McFadden, Billy Reed, Marty Young and Cindy Young. The Pickaway County beef judging team of Linden Gibson, Eddie Dountz and Dick Somers placed made this comment to a Washington C. H. newspaper:

"The insistence of the litigants on legal details has, it appears, successfully defeated the efforts of the Miami Trace board to sell bonds and start construction at the earliest possible date."

"According to our bond buyers, the recent sale of our bonds, had it been completed without interference, could have represented a saving of as much as $100,000 in interest costs on bonds sold either now or in the foreseeable future."

"The board would emphasize that, regrettable as the added cost would be, the MOST regrettable injustice is to the children who are being deprived of educational facilities, which the majority of parents and taxpayers are willing to provide."

School Boards Ask Support

Area Consolidation Problems Discussed

A meeting of the township trustees, local boards of education, village councilmen and other elected officials of the county's political subdivisions was held Thursday evening in the Pickaway County common pleas courtroom.

The meeting was called by Pickaway County School Superintendent George McDowell who served as chairman. He opened the session by giving a background of the present county tax structure.

McDowell pointed out the millage of each political subdivision which is mandated by law. In 1933 the 15 mill limitation was altered to 10 mills.

The mandated millage of each political subdivision, within the 10 mills, was determined by taking two thirds of the average millage for the previous five years and the figure was rounded out to the nearest tenth.

McDOWELL stated that consolidation of the county into three school districts has created problems in the present tax structure. He said none of the schools in the past have taken their allotted mandated levy within the 10 mills in their district.

If the new school districts demanded their mandated levies, the other political subdivisions, such as the townships or villages, would suffer. To overcome this loss of revenue, they would be required to go to the people for millage outside of the 10 mill limitation.

McDowell said rather than do this, the millage, within the 10 mill limitation for the new school districts, is being established below the mandated levy in order not to cause hardships on other political subdivisions.

This will necessitate the schools to ask their people for operating millage outside of the 10 mill limitation. McDowell pointed out to the officials present that it would be to their advantage to support the school levies in their district.

Judson Lanman, executive head of the Westfall school district; Earl R. Gregg, head of the Teays Valley district; and Neil Morris, clerk of the Logan Elm area, briefly outlined their boards' financial needs.

The presidents of the three school districts were introduced and commented on the financial situation. They were Dr. Wells Wil-

New Holland Bridge May Open Today

The narrow bridge over North Fork Paint Creek on U. S. Route 22, one mile west of New Holland, will possibly be opened today if there are no unforeseen delays, it was reported yesterday by an official of the Ohio Department of Highways, connected with the bridge construction.

Repair work was started last week on the bridge which was heavily damaged August 6 when a semi-trailer truck smashed into the west end of it. It has been closed since then.

Present Route 22 traffic west of here has been detoured by way of Routes 56 to Mt. Sterling and Routes 3 and 62 to Washington C. H.

Highway officials said a contract for a new bridge will be let in September. A temporary run-around bridge will be constructed to handle traffic while the new bridge is being erected, thereby eliminating the possibility of a continued back road detour.

U.S. Aid Offered To Hardin Area

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Hard hit farmers whose crops have been heavily damaged by rains in the McGuffey Marsh area of Hardin County can go to the Federal Farm Home Administration for help, says Gov. C. William O'Neill.

O'Neill appealed to President Eisenhower last week to declare the marsh district a disaster area. The appeal was made after an emergency agriculture committee reported that great damage was done to crops in the area by recent heavy rains.

O'Neill received a wire Friday from Sherman Adams, assistant to President Eisenhower, pointing out that the type of relief necessary could better be obtained through the farm home administration than by declaring the marsh a disaster area.

Ashville Debt Is Reduced

Ashville reduced its bonded debt to $36,700 during a two-year audit period ending April 22. It was pointed out in a state examiner's report just released by State Auditor James A. Rhodes. A total of $7,600 was paid from the retirement fund to reduce the debt during the past two years.

The report indicates that village business and finances were managed according to statutes in most instances, the state examiner had some recommendations that were designed to aid officials in the conduct of their duties.

The following balances existed on April 22: general fund, $7,822.58; street maintenance and repair fund, $1,344.05; state highway improvement fund, $564.88; water works revenue fund, $18,208.41; and bond retirement fund, $6,531.81.

The clerk's balance of all funds totaled $34,471.73. This was reconciled to the treasurer's balance by the examiner who said that it totaled $37,408.37 with $2,936.64 outstanding in warrants.

THE REPORT notes that the mayor collected $2,105.39 from fines, costs, fees and bonds posted.

Water works collection totaled $35,708.91. All of this was deposited in the village treasury according to the examiner.

The audit was conducted by the Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Offices under the direction of Auditor Rhodes, who is the chief inspector and supervisor.

BIG BUSINESS

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Matthew	7	1-5
Monday	Matthew	6	1-4
Tuesday	Matthew	6	5-15
Wednesday	Matthew	6	16-23
Thursday	Matthew	7	13-20
Friday	James	3	17-18
Saturday	II Peter	1	1-8

Apples are big business! About 150 million bushels are grown in the U. S. each year.

Perhaps that's why this lad wonders if he could find still another use for the apple. Or perhaps he only wonders if there's a worm in it. If there is, will he toss it away, complaining it's no good?

Some people say they don't go to Church because there are hypocrites in the Church. Then you might as well chuck out that basket of apples in the cellar. There's probably at least one worm in it. But really, does that affect the goodness and usefulness of all the rest?

The Church is big business too, guiding millions of souls each year. If you will attend regularly, earnestly worshipping and sincerely watching for a place where you can be of service, you will give and gain a life-full that's worthwhile. Then you will forget there might be a hypocrite, or a wormy apple around.

BRING A FRIEND TO CHURCH WITH YOU

Public Has Right To Know

Can anything be done about the growing tendency of public officials in Washington to withhold information to which the press and the public are entitled? The question is easier to ask than to answer. But Congress has taken another shot at trying.

President Eisenhower has signed a simple one-sentence bill designed to remove one pretext for putting a label of secrecy on information not affecting the national security.

A statute passed by Congress in 1789, which remains in effect today, authorizes heads of executive departments to make regulations for the "custody, use, and preservation" of departmental records. The Founding Fathers were convinced that informed public opinion is essential in a representative government, which makes it obvious this old statute was never intended to give carte blanche to the arbitrary withholding of information about the operations of government.

In recent years, however, petifogging legal interpretations have permitted officials to use the 1789 act for that purpose.

This new law may merely drive them to seek some other excuse. There is an old saying in Washington that no jobholder was ever fired for withholding information. If a subordinate employee gives a reporter news that embarrasses higher officials, he doesn't enhance his popularity within his department.

There are also scores of other statutes passed by Congress which authorize keeping public information secret for security or other reasons. And President Eisenhower noted in signing the bill that it does not curtail his implied power to keep information confidential in the public interest.

Between the statutes and the natural tendency of bureaucrats to clam up, the problems of getting news and information about the workings of the increasingly complex government will not be automatically solved by this new statute.

It is a step in the right direction, nevertheless. What it says is that the 1789 statute shall not be taken to authorize the withholding from the public of information not explicitly protected by other statutes. But whatever the law says, some bureaucrats will still refuse to reveal information when no statute authorizes them to refuse.

They will no longer have the 1789 statute to hide behind, however, which should make the public's right to know easier to assert.

Pay Nothing, See Nothing

Even if he is no real devotee of television, at least he is fair-minded in his criticism. That must be acknowledged about one man's comment that he never fails to get his money's worth when he sits through a TV program.

He says he pays nothing and that is exactly what some programs are worth.

Too Many Accident Figures

What is the annual rate of injuries in traffic accidents? Three different sources supply figures that vary widely.

If this is confusing to the public it is even less satisfactory to some insurance officials. A spokesman for the Association of Casualty and Insurance Companies says there is need of a standard accident report form so that the public as well as those actually working in the safety field will know the proportions of the problem.

He contends the national toll is "shockingly higher" than the figures that are published.

Among statistics that are singled out are those issued by the U. S. Public Health Service at one extreme and those of the National Safety Council at the other. In between are the findings of a leading insurance company.

Thomas N. Boate of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies presents the health service figures as derived from a study of 20,000 homes as a cross section of the nation. They work out to a total of 4.5 million persons injured in U. S. traffic every year.

National Safety Council figures are criticized as inadequate although based on reports from every state but one. The criticism is based on the elimination from the total of all cases of "temporary injury" — injuries that cause disabilities that do not extend beyond the day of the mishap.

This results in a total of 1.4 million for a year even though it excludes those able to report for work the next day, badly sewn up as they may be, who may later sue for personal damages.

The in-between figures of the insurance company are based on a survey of 25 states expanded to a figure for the country by applying a differential for the states' total population and automobile registrations.

Three methods—three differing pictures. It is difficult to disagree with this critic. Obviously there is need for a uniform approach if the right answers to the problem of prevention are to be found.

Courtin' Main

Main complaint about some current books is that the covers are too far apart.

It's a Changed World

By George Sokolsky

In this country where public officials are supposed to be chosen by an "informed electorate," the real danger is the astonishing ignorance of prejudiced minds, each owner of which has one vote.

I have a letter from a reader in Pawtucket, Rhode Island, who apparently is prejudiced against the British, the Masons, and "The Right Honorable Lord Prime Minister, Mr. Winston Spencer Churchill."

Rejecting the idea of the collapse of the British Empire, he says:

"...They are playing possum. They are doing what they are doing for a reason. The reason is to get the United States of America, my country, involved in this mid-century persecution of peoples who have increased and multiplied, thereby becoming a threat to the British way of thinking and landlording the world."

This may appear to be an absurdity but such absurdities are not unusual. There is a man in Syracuse, who lives in the United States and who hates it. He will not go to a spot on Earth that he loves because he makes a better living here. Similarly, there are the Francophiles and the Francophobes, the pro-Chinese and the anti-Chinese, the pro-Japanese and the anti-Japanese.

These prejudices are often based on nothing. They are not even a product of jealousy which alone can explain the Navy brass' hatred for Adm. Hyman Rickover. Is he everlastingly to be persecuted by those whom the Lord did not grace with intelligence? Or is he to resign from the Navy as Gen. James Gavin did from the Army so that he might use his intelligence unfettered?

History has no use for this sort of lack of intelligence. The race goes to the smart and the swift. We are in a war of brains. Admirals are wearing dungarees and generals do not sit on horseback. A woman chemist or physicist can be as valuable to the armed services of a country as the best marched West Pointer.

It is a changed world and what has made the change are two tremendous forces, neither of which has anything to do with the year 1958, except that we witness the consequences as they unfold.

The strongest of these forces is nationalism which is very different from patriotism. Nationalism asserts itself as a quality of superiority. For instance, there are 12 Arab nations, but Arabic nationalism is unrelated to any one of them. It relates itself rather to a civilization to which these states are in differing manners joined.

Surely, the Arab of the Saudi Arabian desert is different from the Arab of the salons of Cairo or on the beach of Lebanon. As one goes far enough back into their histories, none of these peoples have common ancestors, nor even identical cultural developments. Nevertheless, they find themselves bound by religion as no European states are bound to each other by religion.

Ireland and Spain, Italy and Poland, are not associated with each other because they are Catholic countries, nor is there an association between Great Britain and Russia because of their affinities of their forms of Christianity.

Arabic nationalism is deeply moved by its linguistic relationships. But that is not true in the West where languages with common ancestry such as Italian, French, Portuguese and Rumanian do not produce political affinities.

Nationalism in weak and backward countries is often a revolt against what is erroneously called colonialism. It is not colonialism that has been so objectionable, as it is used to be the mere presence of the "white man," with his different ways, his clubs, his country clubs, his deference to women and his exclusiveness. And when, as a matter of policy, after World War I, the "white man," meaning generally a Britisher, tried to truckle under in the hope of winning approval, it looked wrong and was not believed.

The other force, of course, is the new weapons which make a scientist or a mechanic more valuable than a general of infantry. The new weapons have changed geography and have made the North Pole a field of battle, whereas in the past one thought of Flanders Fields as battlefields. The nearest enemy to the United States is Soviet Russia just on the other side of the North Pole.

For Soviet Russia and Red China and the Arabs, the radio is as great a weapon as the cannon in the building of empire.

You're Telling Me!

The International Telephone and Telegraph company has announced a device which can tell men from women. Who needs a machine?

The I. T. and T. device can detect the difference in heat radiated from men's and women's clothing. It's been apparent for a long time that there's a difference.

I. T. and T.'s heat sensitivity device is supposed to have many military and commercial uses. Not to say political, since a lot of congressmen running for re-election would like to know where the heat is.

Such a detection device in a telephone could be very useful. "If a woman rings, don't answer."

A heat sensitivity device could create a new category in the "Miss America" contest. Beauty and talent don't necessarily make the girl, anyhow.

Martin Luther Evangelical Lutheran Church Scene for Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Mary Joanne Guinther became the bride of the Rev. George A. Hartman Jr. in the Martin Luther Evangelical Lutheran Church, west of Bucyrus, at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, August 17.

The Rev. E. J. Katterhenrick, pastor of Good Hope Lutheran Church, Bucyrus, performed the double ring ceremony.

Miss Guinther is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren F. Guinther, Route 1, Nevada and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Hartman Sr., Route 3.

Seven branch candelabra, palms, two beauty baskets with white gladioli and asters formed the background. On the altar were vases of white beauty asters. White satin bows with greens marked the pews.

Prenuptial music was presented by Mrs. Raymond Lust, organist and Mrs. Charles Rehm, soloist. Mrs. Rehm presented "Jesus, Be Our Guide," "O Promise Me" and "Wedding Prayer." During the ceremony, Mrs. Rehm sang the "Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of "I Do" taffeta which featured a fitted bodice with a lace yoke and Sabrina neckline embroidered with iridescent and pearls. The floor length skirt which swept into a chapel length train was accented by insertions of scalloped rows of rosepoint lace repeated in both front and back. Rose point lace from off the shoulder accented the long taffeta sleeves which extended to a point over the hands.

Her floor length cloud veil of French illusion was attached to the wedding cake crown which formed a double row of pearls. She carried a white orchid on a white Bible with streamers of stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Dwight Hartschuh, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown with off the shoulder circular collar and biased cut billowy skirt over a hoop in mint green Damascus brocade with matching velvet streamer. A matching circular hat with seed pearls with tulle circular veils and matching mitts completed her ensemble. She carried a cascade of yellow beauty asters with satin trim.

Miss Julia Guinther, sister of the bride and Miss Marilyn Hartman, sister of the groom, were the bridesmaids. Miss Linda Guinther, sister of the bride and Miss Elaine Hartman, sister of the groom, were junior bridesmaids.

The attendants wore gowns identical to the matron of honor. Julia and Elaine's were of yellow and Marilyn and Linda's, lavender. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow and lavender beauty asters opposites.

Master Gary Hartman, brother of the groom, served as the acolyte. The Rev. Ernest Serr, friend of the groom, was the best man. Ushers were: The Rev. Garrard Hanbrich and Mr. James Kennell, friends of the groom.

Mrs. Guinther chose for her daughter's wedding, a mink brown chantilly nylon lace back draped sheath over beige taffeta. She wore matching beige accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a slim sheath of chantilly lace and satin in delicate romance blue. The gown featured a bateau neckline which was cut to a deep vee in back, short cap sleeves and a fitted midriff of satin applied with scallops of lace. Her calot of matching blue was embroidered with iridescent paillets. Her corsage was of red roses.

A reception was held in the parish house following the ceremony. The table was centered with a 4-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom encircled with greenery and yellow and lavender flowers. Also green and yellow tapers in double crystal candle holders with lavender bows and a lace cloth were used.

Mrs. Richard Kline served cake. Mrs. William Kuhn, punch; Mrs. Robert Kibler and Miss Sylvia Lust, ice cream, nuts and mints. The first three ladies are friends of the bride and Miss Lust is a cousin of the bride. Miss Marjorie Lust was at the guest book.

The hostesses were assisted by seven ladies of the Good Will Class of the church.

For their wedding trip to the New England States, the bride changed to a navy-blue pure silk sheath with matching jacket and accessories. She pinned the orchid from the wedding bouquet, to her shoulder.

When the couple returns they will reside at the parsonage, 606 W. Perry St., Bucyrus.

The new Mrs. Hartman is a graduate of Mount Zion High School, Crawford County and is employed as a Deputy Clerk of Courts in the Courthouse at Bucyrus.

The Rev. Hartman is a graduate of Carey High School and in 1949 received his A. B. degree from Capital University, Columbus; graduated from Capital Theological Seminary, receiving his Bachelor of Divinity Degree in 1957. At present he is pastor of Martin Luther Evangelical Lutheran Church, west of Bucyrus.

Out-of-town wedding guests were from Circleville, Sterling, Cullon, Illinois and vicinity, Washington C. H., Columbus and vicinity, Delaware, Carey, Hillsboro, Marion, Danville, Gallon, Amanda and Bucyrus. Also present were the grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Grover A. Hartman, Ashville.

Iceland Threatens To Leave NATO

LONDON (AP)—Iceland threatened today to pull out of the Atlantic Alliance over its fishing dispute with Great Britain.

Dr. Kristinn Gudmundsson, Iceland's ambassador to Britain, told a news conference Iceland will be compelled "to drop out of NATO if Britain does not behave."

Britain has challenged Iceland's right to ban foreign trawlers from fishing within 12 miles of its coast. The ban goes into effect Sept. 1. The present limit is four miles.

Gudmundsson said Iceland "is sticking 100 per cent to its decision" despite British warnings that the Royal Navy intends to escort British trawlers.

Brothers Suffer Duplicate Injuries

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Robert Poore, 24, suffered head and arm injuries today when a car in which he was riding hit a pole.

His brother, Harvey, 29, was summoned to Johns Hopkins Hospital, where Robert was taken.

En route home from the hospital, a car in which Harvey was riding hit a pole. He received head and arm injuries and was taken to Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Both were reported in satisfactory condition.

Crash Fatal to Pair

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP)—A Belmont, Ohio, couple was killed Friday in an auto-truck collision on Ohio 7 about four miles south of here. They were identified as William W. Pursglove, 68, driver of the auto, and his wife, Bessie, 64.

NOT ON THE MOON—Cuddly bears don't grow anywhere but here on earth, and this grade-schooler thinks she'll just forget all this new-fangled space talk. She's plenty up-to-date in fashion, however, in a wash-and-wear plaid dress with white pique collar, jeweled buttons and black velvet belt. Permanently pleated it's crease-resistant.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My daughter (call her Jean) is getting sick of her job, even though it is a nice one, because she is bored with her bosses. At first she was much amused by their geniality, but now she feels forced to laugh or smile at every crack they make. And this, she says, is more tiring than stacks of work.

Jean likes all phases of the work itself—and even her coworkers. But she never knows what is expected of her, as both men are indefinite, and she feels she doesn't accomplish as much as the other girls.

Jean says she may have misled these men at first, because she thought it was her duty to be jovial on the job. I feel that one of these men is more interested in Jean than a boss should be.

Her brother wants her to quit. I just don't know how to advise her. She is young, but not fickle. I have great confidence in her. Do you think she has made a mistake and should look for another job?

T. R.
DEAR T. R.: You don't say whether Jean is young, pretty and charming. Or maybe just young and pliable and pleasantly dumb.

In any case, the gist of her growing discomfort at the office suggests that she may have been hired more for eye-appeal, or feminine appeal, than as an efficient Girl Friday.

An adequate self-reliant Girl Friday could protect herself—in terms of tactfully signifying no pleasure in their unfunny cracks. And, also, in getting plans, opinions, or permissions, regarding work for the day.

Possibly Jean takes the role of merely responding, reacting—never initiating. An adult-type woman, in the business world, deftly patterns her work and leads out diplomatically, in setting the tone of her office relationships.

In so doing, she may encounter personality conflicts, mild or serious; and, if unsuitably or improperly treated, she may have to quit the job, in fairness to herself. But she doesn't surrender her sense of dignity. Rather, it is the firm foundation from which she operates—in being a friendly, useful and valued employee.

So, encourage Jean to decide about resigning. Don't, by inference, cause her to fear changes that perhaps should be made.

Eisenhower Given Medal Honoring His Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower talked some politics Friday and got a gold medal commemorating this second anniversary of his nomination for a second term.

The medal, inscribed with the President's name, was presented at the White House by Meade Alcorn, chairman of the Republican National Committee, and Mrs. Frank E. Williams of St. Petersburg, Fla., the new assistant chairman.

In reporting presentation of the anniversary medal, Alcorn also told newsmen it is clear to him that Eisenhower is determined to take an aggressive part in this year's Republican campaign to capture control of Congress from the Democrats.

In reply to questions, Alcorn said he and Eisenhower discussed campaign speeches the President intends to make this fall. Dates and places are not definite yet, the chairman added.

Looking at the World's News through the Camera's Eye

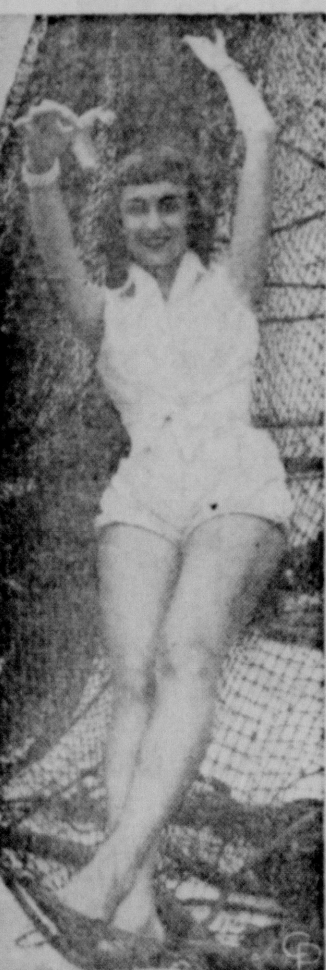

MOON UNSHOOT—Here is the sad picture story of the failure of the U. S. Air Force's attempt to shoot a rocket to the moon. The 88-foot multi-stage rocket whooshes off launching pad (left) at Cape Canaveral, Fla., and, 77 seconds later, explodes (upper right) at 50,000 feet. Roy Johnson, civilian head of the Advanced Research Project agency, is shown as he dejectedly talked to reporters after the failure. Also shown is the terminal cannister, with cover in place, which carried devices for measuring both earth's and moon's magnetic fields. They will try again next month.

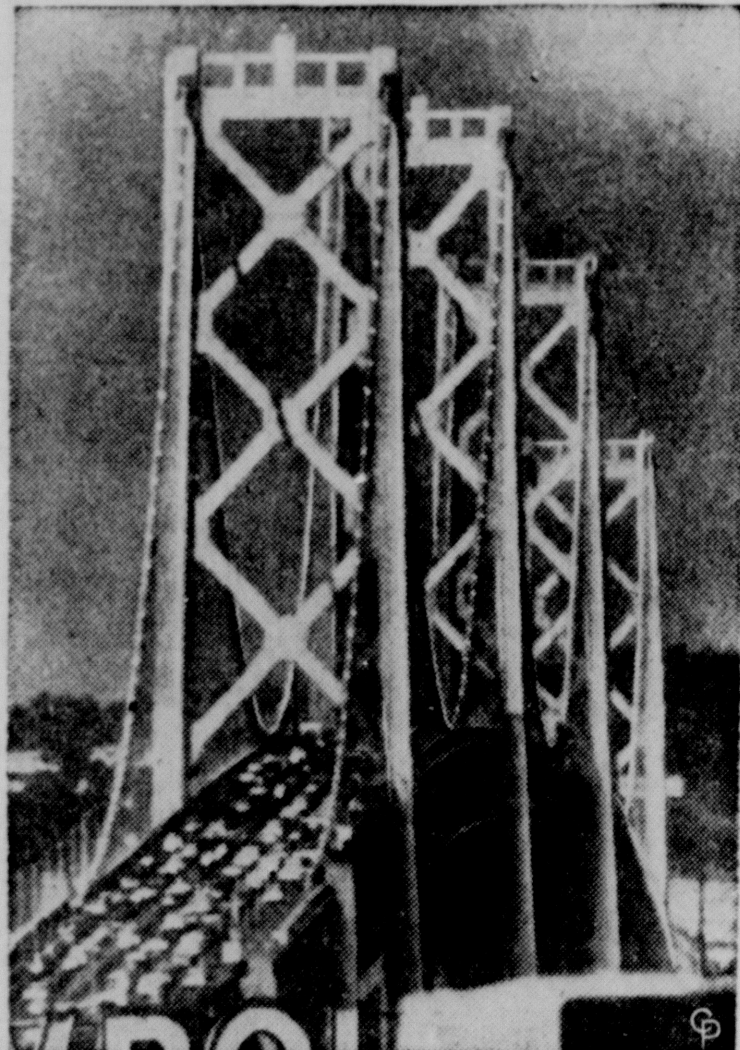

SENSITIVE DEVICES ABOARD NUCLEAR USS TRITON—These intricate and highly-sensitive instruments are part of a million-dollar instrumentation system developed by General Electric for the USS Triton, newest nuclear submarine launched at Groton, Conn., August 19. Designed to withstand the shock of depth charges, the differential pressure detectors can sense variations of pressure within an accuracy of one-half of one per cent. (Central Press)

MISTAKEN IDENTITY—This is the dramatic scene in a Jefferson, Ga., court in which Mrs. Charles Drake (left), widow of a Jefferson merchant killed in 1956 in a robbery attempt, decided she was unable to identify a man with a stocking over his head (right). Previously she had identified house painter James Fulton Foster, 40, as the murderer. He was sentenced to death twice. Later Charles P. Rothschild admitted the killing. This scene is at the trial of bootlegger A. D. Allen, who, Rothschild claims, set the stage for the robbery try. Rothschild goes on trial later.

LUCKY SHRIMP—The folk who are promoting the Aransas pass Shrimp-o-ree, starting August 29 on the Texas tropical coast, say there will be plenty of pretty girls like Sandra Roberts, and plenty of Texas gulf shrimp like the one she is holding. (Central Press)

8-MILE PICTURE—This unusual photo shows the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge with all four of its towers bunched together. It was made from on top of the San Francisco Seals stadium pressroom eight miles from the subject with a six-hundred millimeter telephoto lens during a very hazy afternoon. Distortion makes the span appear to be highly arched.

INTEGRATION ATTEMPT—A newsman in Charlottesville, Va., talks with Sylvia Morton (left) as she and Roberta Robinson arrive at Burley High School to take achievement tests in the city's school assignment program. Seven other Negro applicants took tests. Four of 13 scheduled to appear didn't show up.

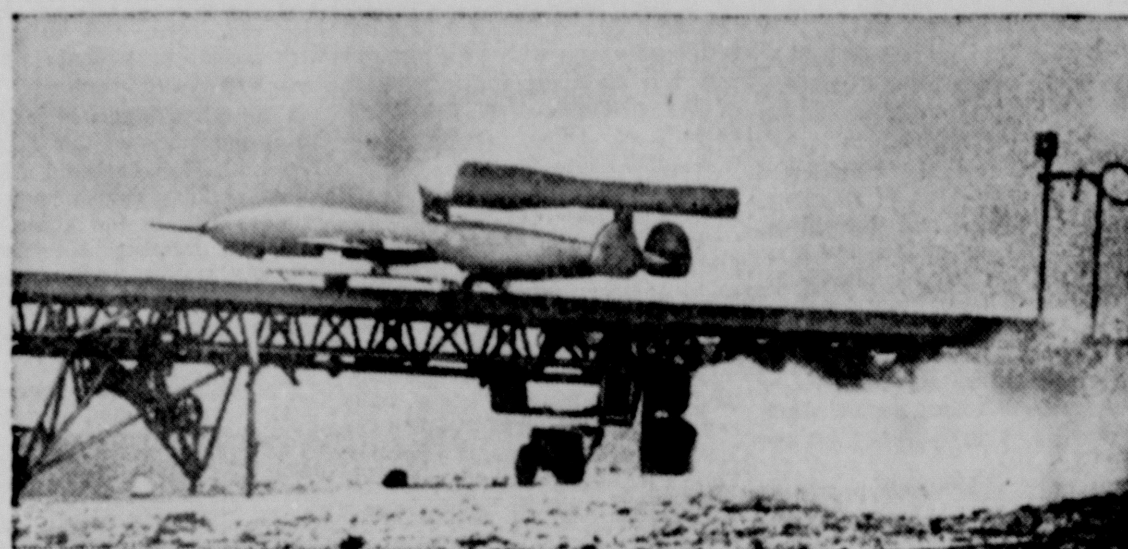

BURIED UNDER STEEL—Billy Hayes looks at rescuers (upper) from painful entrapment under several thousand pounds of steel in Nashville, Tenn., and (lower) grimaces with pain as he is placed on a hospital cart. He was trapped for 45 minutes when racks holding the heavy steel rods gave way.

THE LAW IS FOILED—Traffic officer E. L. Trinkkeller takes it with a smile as Martha Erner tells him in Los Angeles why he hasn't been writing many parking tickets in the neighborhood of her restaurant lately. Whenever he shows up she raises that skunk flag, and workers in offices across the street and nearby hustle to move illegally parked autos.

WORST IN FOUR YEARS—Eight killed was the count in this two-car collision near Prewitt, N. M., the state's worst highway accident in four years. A car driven by H. G. Bragg, Anniston, Ala., which state police said was four feet over the line, slammed into car driven by Perez Sanchez, Las Animas, Colo. Four persons in each car were killed. There were three survivors.

OFF TO SEA—The Tjalehar robot thunders along signals which can make it go in any direction the starting tracks on its way out to sea during a successful test at Gotland, Sweden. The robot, named after a Norse goddess, was bought by Sweden from France. It is controlled by radio no war machines of this type, but must buy them.

DEADLY—Enemy of the Nazis during World War II, Lydia Lova is shown on the stage of the Folies Bergeres, in Paris, where she is now a dancer. After committing acts of sabotage against German forces in her native Poland, Lydia had been sentenced to death but was saved from a concentration camp gas chamber.

SIX MONTHS UP THERE IS HER AIM—Mauri Rose Kirby, 17, probably is using the busiest telephone in Indianapolis, Ind., because she's atop a 71-foot flagpole, where she says she'll stay for six months, to beat the 169-day record. She's starting a book on her sitting. She got that name because she was born on May 30, 1941, the day Mauri Rose scored the second of three wins at the 500-mile race in Indianapolis.

NEW LIFE BEGINS AT 90—Mrs. Masi Parente, 90, starts a new life in a new world, namely Pittsburgh, Pa., after a 4,000-mile flight from her native Italy. It came about after she was reunited with son Joseph, 56, after separation of 38 years.

Sad Sam Jones Sets Strikeout Record of 14

No-Hitter Broken For Cardinal Hurler In Win over Phillies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Everything comes hard for Sad Sam Jones. Even when he wins.

Take Friday night. The St. Louis Cardinals gave him some infrequent hitting support and he beat the Philadelphia Phillies 9-1 with a three-hitter.

Trouble is, it might have been Sad Sam's second major league no-hitter. He gave the Phils chills through seven innings. Then came the eighth. Ex-Card Rip Repulski lined a pinch-hit homer. Richie Ashburn doubled. Solly Hemus, another onetime Cardinal, singled.

Then Jones went back to work, fanning a pair to get out of the inning and adding another strikeout in the ninth for a total of 14. That's a night game record in the majors.

While the Cardinals were moving back into a fourth place tie with idle Los Angeles in the National League standings, also idle Milwaukee regained a seven-game lead as Cincinnati rapped second place San Francisco 7-3. Pittsburgh beat the Chicago Cubs 8-2.

In the American League, the New York Yankees moved 12½ games ahead once more, taking their second in a row from the second place Chicago White Sox 8-5. Boston defeated Cleveland 4-3. Baltimore beat Detroit 2-1 and Kansas City defeated Washington 1-0 on Ralph Terry's one-hitter.

Sad Sam's 14 strikeouts also matched the one-game high in the majors this season. Detroit's Jim Bunning did it in the AL. Don Cardwell (2-2) lost it.

The Reds bagged it against losing reliever Marv Grissom on Ed Bailey's two-run double. The Giants had five hits, just one after Valmy Thomas' two-run homer built a 3-0 lead in the fourth off starter Joe Nuxhall. Brooks Lawrence, who had lost nine straight won it in relief.

The Pirates won against Marcelino Solis (3-3). Rookie George Witt won his seventh with Vern Law's relief help.

Mickey Mantle, who hit his 36th home run in the first inning, doubled home the clincher in a four-run seventh for the Yankees. Elston Howard and Gil McDougald also homered for the champs, while Sherman Lollar reached his one-season high with his 17th homer for the Sox. Duke Maas (7-8) won it with two innings of hitless relief after Chicago tagged Johnny Kucks for two runs and a 4-3 lead in the sixth. Early Wynn (10-13), was the loser and now is 0-5 against New York for the year.

It was Early's 200th loss in the majors. He's won 245, tops among active pitchers.

Ike Delock won his 12th for the Red Sox, giving up 10 hits, one Rocky Colavito's 29th home run. Frank Malzone hit his 12th homer for the Red Sox, then brought in the winning run with an eighth-inning double off Hoyt Wilhelm (2-7), who lost his sixth in a row.

Gene Woodling's lead-off home run won it for the Orioles in the sixth against Jim Bunning (9-8).

Rosen, Veeck Ready To Buy Indian Club

CLEVELAND (AP)—Al Rosen, former third baseman of the Cleveland Indians, revealed today that he and Bill Veeck are members of a group which will attempt to buy the baseball club with the intention of keeping it in Cleveland.

He said he would prefer that Veeck, former president of the club, acted as spokesman, but the latter was out of the city.

Rosen, who is now in the brokerage business, said the group is composed mainly of Clevelanders and has money available to back up its bid.

"We feel it is our civic duty to keep the Indians in Cleveland," he said. "We are pledged absolutely to do so."

William R. Daley, who heads present owners of the tribe as chairman of the board, has been hinting lately that the club might be moved from Cleveland if attendance doesn't pick up.

The present owners purchased the club for $3,961,800 in March, 1956. About a year ago they turned down a bid to buy the Indians made by a group headed by Veeck. Daley said at the time that the club was not for sale at any price.

Veeck was president of the Indians when they set an all-time high attendance record of 2,620,627 in 1948, the year they won the World Series.

Indians Hope McLish To Aid In Revival

BOSTON (AP) — Cleveland's slumping Indians sent Cal McLish to the mound today in an attempt to end a three-game losing streak.

In their last 13 games, the Tribe has won only two.

Friday, Ike Delock posted his 12th victory of the year for the Boston Red Sox. He scattered 10 Indian hits and the Red Sox won 4-3.

Two of the four Red Sox runs were knocked in by Frank Malzone. The third baseman hit his 12th home run of the year in the fourth inning. He sent the winning run home in the eighth with a single.

Rocky Colavito gave the Indians some hope in the ninth when he homered. But Delock got the next three Indians on a grounder, a foul ball and a strike out.

Hoyt Wilhelm pitched all the way for Cleveland. He has now lost seven and won two.

Jackie Jensen got the Red Sox off to an early lead in the second when he doubled. Dick Gernert slammed a Wilhelm offering through the middle for a single, scoring Jensen.

The Indians bounced back in the third when Billy Moran singled through and Dick Brown raced home from second.

The Tribe took a 2-1 lead in the fourth, scoring a run on singles by Minnie Minoso, Colavito and Randy Jackson.

But Malzone opened the Red Sox fourth with his home run. Jim Piersall, on base by way of a fielder's choice, stole second and came home with Boston's third run.

Malzone rifled a single into center in the eighth to score Pete Runnels with the winning run. Runnels had doubled.

Colavito got his 29th homer of the year in the ninth, but the Indians failed to score after that.

River Oilmen Win, 3-0, in State Tourney

River Oil of Chillicothe, winners of the local district softball tournament, won its first game in the state tourney yesterday at Toledo.

The victory was a 3-0 job over the Eastside Yankees of Toledo.

Pitcher John Farnham picked up the win, allowing only one hit and striking out 11. Miller was the loser, permitting four bingles and fanning nine.

Farnham also starred at the plate, smashing a triple and a single. Bud Nelson assisted with another three-bigger.

The Oilmen go after their second win in the state classic at 8:30 p. m. today. Their opponents will be North Lewisburg Firemen.

TOD MCKINNEY, hurling for D and D Grill in Columbus, came through with a no-hitter in downing Reid-Hurst Insurance of Springfield yesterday.

McKinney registered 16 strikeouts in the 2-0 decision. He hurled for the state champion Bart's Bar nine last year.

Wood-Albrecht, also of Columbus, won its first tourney game, a 1-0 victory over Toledo Fire Department.

Quast, Romack Vie for Crown

DARIEN, Conn. (AP) — The Women's National Amateur Golf Championship came down to a pulchritude-packed final today. It pairs a 20-year-old college girl, who wants to win but won't devote her life to it, and a veteran of 25, who thinks it's time to settle down and get a job.

The rivals in this 36-hole match over the 6,467-yard Wee Burn course were Anne Quast, the Stanford University senior from Marysville, Wash., and Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., a former champion who says she's going to spend next week looking for a job in the public relations field.

Lions Erase Nasty Rumors By Clipping Browns 17-7

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Coach George Wilson told his Detroit Lions it was time to wipe out a couple of nasty rumors. His National Football League champions responded by knocking over the Cleveland Browns 17-7 in a pre-season exhibition game at Detroit Friday night.

The victory helped the Lions forget last week's 35-19 drubbing at the hands of the College All-Stars. It also kept intact the team's record of never having lost to the Browns on home grounds.

On the West Coast, the Los Angeles Rams capitalized on Billy Wade's passing and a tough defense and defeated the New York Giants, 38-10, in a pre-season set at Los Angeles' Memorial Coliseum.

Wilson, starting his second season as head coach of Detroit, said he didn't make a speech to his players before the game. "I merely told them everybody has been saying we look lousy in camp, and we looked lousy against the college boys," he said. "It was time they proved a little something to themselves and to everybody else."

If there was one thing the victory proved, it was that quarterback Bobby Layne is ready for his 11th season of professional football.

Layne, whose career was jeopardized by a broken ankle suffered last December against the same Browns, directed the Detroit team to its only long scoring march. It covered 80 yards in 11 plays and the former Texas star passed for more than half the yardage.

The Rams, in posting their second straight exhibition victory, had to come from behind.

Ben Agajanian's 28-yard field goal put the Giants out in front in the opening quarter.

But Wade shot the Los Angeles team out in front to stay with two touchdown passes in the second quarter. He hit Jon Arnett on the goal line with a 35-yard strike and then fired a 39-yard touchdown pass to Del Shofner.

Canadian Wins Grand as Kid Is Disqualified

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—A Canadian held the Grand American Handicap trapshoot today, but a heart - broken 16-year-old kid from Illinois is getting a lot of cheers too.

The new champion is 66-year-old Emerson Clark, a foundry superintendent from Preston, Ont., first to carry the crown across the Canadian border.

The kid is Robert V. Nolan of Lewistown, Ill., who posted the only perfect score in the record-breaking field of 2,214 and didn't win a thing.

The youngster broke 100 straight from 19 yards, and while being hailed as the winner of trapshooting's biggest classic, was ruled ineligible for the honor by Amateur Trapshooting Assn. officials.

The decision, announced by President Vic Reinders of Waukesha, Wis., disclosed that young Nolan had paid a $7.50 entry fee which entitled him to shoot for targets only. The total entry fee for those shooting for purses and the championship is $61.

With Nolan ousted from the top spot, Clark and Jim McCole, a 30-year-old game warden from Gering, Neb., moved into the lead with 99. In the shootoff, Clark emerged a 23-20 victor.

The 59th Grand American winds up today with the national doubles championship and the Vandalia handicap. Both count in the overall and all-around championships, based on the full week of shooting in which nearly a million and a quarter targets have been thrown.

Lawrence OK As Reliever For Redlegs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Brooks Lawrence seems to have lost the stamina that made him a starting pitcher for the Cincinnati Redlegs, but he may have finally got the hang of being a reliever.

Friday night he took over in the seventh inning and held San Francisco's Giants to one hit while the Reds went on an eighth inning spree, clinching a 7-3 victory.

Before this victory, Lawrence had lost nine games in a row since July 2.

Lawrence took over for southpaw Joe Nuxhall who was lifted for a pinch-hitter.

And Lawrence's teammates obliged with a five-run eighth inning touched off by Jerry Lynch's triple. First baseman George Crowe singled him home, tying the score, 3-3. After Frankie Robinson doubled, catcher Ed Bailey rapped a double to right, scoring two runs.

Gus Bell reached first safely on a fielder's choice, took second on a routine putout that scored Bailey and scored himself when Lawrence hit what looked like a single. But the pitcher had failed to touch first base and was nabbed. Eddie Miksis hit into a putout to end the uprising.

The Reds hadn't started scoring until the seventh inning when singles by Bailey, Alex Grammas and pinch hitter Bob Thurman brought in one run. Grammas scored on an error by Danny O'Connell.

Willie Mays' walk and Hank Bauer's double brought in the first Giant run in the first inning. In the fourth, Daryl Spencer singled and Frank Thomas banged a home run.

Bob Purkey, who had trouble at the start of this five game series earlier in the week, is slated to try his hand again today, opposing Roman Monzant.

Floridian Hopes Percentages To Help Win Tourney

WATERLOO, Iowa (AP) — Kathy Cornelius is looking toward the percentages to help her win the $7,500 Waterloo Open golf championship.

The 25-year-old Florida mother, shooting even par 144 through the first half of the 72-hole tournament, nevertheless was four strokes back of leader Fay Crocker going into today's third round.

"Percentage-wise it's about my turn to win a tournament," said Mrs. Cornhus. Her last tournament victory came in the 1956 National Open.

Miss Crocker, of Montevideo, Uruguay, shot her second straight two under par 70 Friday for a 140 total.

Five strokes back at 145 were Phyllis Otto German of Atlantic, Iowa, and Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga.

Terry Comes Close To Perfect Game

WASHINGTON (AP)—The way to baseball immortality is barred by the strangest sentries. Ask Ralph Terry.

Terry, 22-year-old Kansas City right-hander, came just about as close as you can to pitching a perfect game Friday night. He gave up just one hit, walked no one, got perfect support afield, and faced only 28 men in beating Washington, 1-0.

That lone hit, ironically, was a solid single off the bat of Washington pitcher Russ Kemmerer, who sported a lusty 127 batting average when he strode to the plate with two out in the bottom of the third.

But win or lose, the ever-pressing Philadelphia contender gives the fans a good show.

GOP's Aerial Caravan Idea Abandoned

Fear of Airplane Crash Said Reason For Dropping Plan

By REED EMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —An aerial caravan planned for Republican state candidates late in the fall election campaign apparently won't get off the ground.

Party leaders reportedly abandoned the novel idea after a recent plane crash in New England killed most of the passengers.

They felt the danger of losing the Ohio GOP "team" of veteran office holders and campaigners outweighed the convenience of swift travel between cities in a whirlwind drive for votes before the Nov. 4 election.

Republicans also apparently have lost the effectiveness of national leadership by the state in highway building as a campaign issue.

Gov. C. William O'Neill stressed Ohio's leadership in early campaign speeches, despite criticism by his Democratic opponent, Michael V. DiSalle.

O'Neill, who terms his administration one of building, recently gave his predecessor, Demo-

Pennsylvania Cops National Small Bore Rifle Championship

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP) — Robert Moore of Claysville, Pa., firing two perfect scores on the final day, rallied to win the national small bore rifle championship here Friday with a score of 6,385 points of a possible 6,400.

Moore edged Herbert Hollister of Boulder, Colo., who wound up with 6,384 and Charles Whipple of Somerset, Pa., the front - runner for five days of the six-day run, who had 6,382.

J. Kenneth Johnson of Washington, Pa., the 1956 champion, finished fourth, also with 6,382. He was listed behind Whipple because of fewer "X" ring hits which are used to break ties.

Miss Janet Fridrell, 17-year-old from Toledo, Ohio, won two titles. She finished first in both the women's and junior races with 6,373, just ahead of Miss Barbara Norton of Bridgeport, Conn., who was second in both races with 6,370.

Miss Ohio Proud Of Her 'Calves'

COLUMBUS (AP) — Shapely Miss Ohio, who helped open the Ohio Fair Friday, is proud of her calves (Hereford). They are helping her through the Ohio State University School of Nursing.

Miss Ohio is Peggy Putnam, 19, of near Ada in Hardin County. She has shown her livestock many times at Hardin County and Ohio State Fairs. Sale of the animals helps pay her tuition.

She is Ohio's entry in the Miss America contest opening soon in Atlantic City.

erat Frank J. Lausche, credit for planning much of the construction now under way. Lausche now is a U.S. Senator.

But a state senator may have the last word on that subject. He is Sen. David M. Ferguson (R-Guernsey), a veteran of six terms in the Legislature.

Ferguson asserted that a Democrat - controlled General Assembly during Lausche's administration delayed Ohio's highway program at least four years.

He recalled that in 1949, during Lausche's second term as governor, he introduced in the Senate legislation proposing a popular vote on a 500 million dollar bond issue to speed highway and school construction.

"Lausche's Rules Committee, which was Democratic, refused to let the proposal come out on the Senate floor for a vote, else this highway improvement program could have been very easily four years ahead of where we are now," Ferguson said in a prepared statement.

Girls Are Told Man Killers Are Seldom Lady Killers
By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
Girls who go to dude ranches in search of romance should bear in mind that those picturesque cowboys can be deadly dull in a drawing room.
"Man killers are seldom lady killers," says Dick O'Connor, author of a biography of Bat Masterson, one of the most famous gunfighters of the Old West, whose exploits form the basis of a new television series to be aired this fall.
Dick, an easy-going Irishman who was a newspaperman until he retired to a Maine farm a few months ago to write books, says most of the rooin', tootin' heroes of the cowboys-and-Indians days would be classed as juvenile delinquents today. He picked Bat Masterson as a subject for research because he was an exception to the rule.
"Masterson wasn't just a homicidal maniac like most of the old gunfighters," says O'Connor. "He never killed a man except in self-defense or in connection with his duties as a marshal. He was a romantic figure who had many love affairs before he finally married and settled down. He was something of a Beau Brummel of his day—and besides all that he was a newspaperman."
Masterson, a Kansas farm boy who played the various roles of buffalo hunter, Army scout, U. S. marshal and prizefight promoter, put away his guns to become sports editor of the New York Morning Telegraph from 1903 until his death in 1921. He married a dance-hall girl named Emma Walters in 1891, and they lived happily together for almost 30 years.
"Most of the professional gunfighters of the day simply hated work," O'Connor says. "In a later day their prototypes became gangsters and bootleggers. None of them would cause a heart-throb if caught without their guns."
"Modern women who get bored with their white-collar husbands should bear this in mind. The romance of the Old West wasn't half what it was cracked up to be."

Fall from Hayloft Fatal to Farm Girl
LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Mary Rose Lefeld, 6, of Rt. 1, Coldwater, Mercer County, died in St. Rita's Hospital here Friday of injuries suffered in a fall at the farm home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lefeld. Police said she fell from the hayloft in the barn.

Talks Continue In Timken Fuss
CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Negotiators for the United Steel Workers and Timken Roller Bearing Co. met again today in an attempt to end a 34-day strike over a new pension plan.
Plants at Canton, Columbus and Zanesville, employing some 9,000 workers, have been idled.
John S. Johns, USW district director, Friday said union negotiators would recommend acceptance of a new Timken proposal. But, he added, not before some remaining issues were settled.
Length of contract is one point in contention. The union wants a one-year pact. The company has asked a two-year contract. Other issues being debated are benefits for already retired workers, deductions from disability pensions, and early retirement provisions.

Hired Wrong 'Assassin'
What Mrs. Frances Marjorie Miller, 31, of Washington, Pa., didn't know when she hired a man for $500 to kill her husband was that the "assassin" was a deputy constable, who arranged a trap with state police. She said she thought she and her seven-year-old son would be "better off" without her husband. Mrs. Miller was released on $500 bond after pleading guilty to a charge of solicitation to commit murder.

Moonshiner Gets 6-Month Sentence
CINCINNATI (AP)—Moonshining charges against two Portsmouth men resulted in a suspended sentence for one and a jail term for the other in U. S. District Court Friday.
Judge John H. Druffel set a suspended year-and-a-day term for Ralph W. Boyd, 36, father of five children, who said, "I just couldn't stand to see my kids go hungry." He was charged with operating a still.
A probation officer said Boyd had been laid off his job, was unable to get welfare aid, and "when we went there, there wasn't even any food in the house."
In an unrelated case, Ernest Wells, 47, charged with operating a still and possessing marsh, was sentenced to six months in jail.

Utah Home Deal To Be Dedicated
OGDEN, Utah (AP)—Proud citizens and federal officials gathered here today to dedicate Washington Terrace, a unique do-it-yourself project for home owners.
Built as a World War II housing project, the 1,400 homes were sold to the occupants in 1950 after the tenants banded together to form a corporation.
Homes were remodeled, some were added and others moved, all under Utah's first federal urban renewal program. The corporation formed by the tenants is wholly free of debt and residents of Washington Terrace could turn it into Utah's sixth largest city if they choose to incorporate.

Like Great-Grandfather, Like Great-Grandson—The U. S. Marine Corps band is conducted, for the first time in 27 years, by John Philip Sousa, on the steps of the Capitol in Washington. Only this time it is 10-year-old John Philip IV, great-grandson of the late, immortal composer-band leader. An audience of 5,000 watched the calm boy from Los Angeles. He said he prefers football or baseball to conducting.

'59 Model Automaker Plans To Offer Swivel Type Seats

DETROIT (AP)—One of the nation's leading auto makers will offer something new in front seats with its 1959 line.

The seats will be called swivel units. They are so designed that they will swing outward at a 40-degree angle at the touch of a lever after the door is opened. Pressure on the cushion returns it to normal position.

The manufacturer says the device offers an invitation to back into the lower cars. He adds that it should be a great boon to tight-skirted women drivers and tall men.

Another device coming in 1959 models is a rear-view inside mirror that automatically tips to a nonglare level when bright headlights strike it through the rear window.

The mirror probably will have considerable appeal in the new models with their increased expansion of rear window glass. Many 1959 models have rear windows reaching well into the roof as well as farther around rear quarter panels.

A new device just announced by General Motors' Rochester Products Division is intended to overcome rough engine idling and stalling due to high under-hood temperatures.

The device, attached to the carburetor, has a thermostatically controlled valve which opens an air bleed to the manifold. This permits extra air to pass through the engine when excessively high temperature increases vaporization.

It will be an inexpensive extra-cost item. It is said to facilitate starting and improve efficiency when the engine is hot.

These and numerous other advances will get broadside promotion by the car makers when the new models reach the market in mid-September and early October.

Also to be accentuated in the promotion will be substantial advances in suspension, car-leveling devices and braking systems generally.

Unlike some scions of famous stars, Jack is a realistic fellow who knows where he's going.

"I like the emcee business and I want to stay with it," he remarked. "It's stimulating work, and I think I'm getting good training for it. I had my own radio show at 15. I've appeared on the House Party once a week and taken over for Dad when he goes on vacation.

"This summer I had the amazing fortune to have my choice of five different shows. The reason was that quiz shows flooded the networks, and emcees were in demand.

"I'm happy for the opportunity, but I think it's a mistake to put so many quiz shows on in the summer. All the new ones are sustaining, and that creates a problem. Without a sponsor, you have to promote merchandise to give away to contestants. That means you've got to give a one-minute plug for each item, and your show gets cluttered up.

"But there's one good thing about the flood of quiz shows: At least they're live. The rest of the network time is filled with reruns."

Jack has had the benefit of his father's 25-year experience in the emcee dodge. Ever since Jack started in the business, Art has been giving the lad critiques on his performance.

New Holland School Tax Established

The 4.20-mill Miami Trace district school tax rate inside the 10-mill limitation was extended to the newly merged New Holland school district at a joint conference of Fayette and Pickaway County budget commissions held in Washington C. H., on August 12.

At the same time, it was agreed that Fayette County will allot New Holland village a percentage of local government money in ratio to the tax valuation of the New Holland corporation.

The latter agreement was made since 10 per cent of the New Holland corporation is within Fayette County. On the basis of the village's needs as outlined to the Pickaway budget commission, this is $180.

Pickaway budget commission members attending the conference, made necessary by the recent transfer of the New Holland school district to Miami Trace, were Prosecutor Ray Davis, Treasurer Robert Colville and Auditor Mrs. Verna O'Hara.

FAYETTE budget commission members are Prosecutor Rollo M. Marchant, Treasurer Charles Fabb and Auditor Harry R. Allen.

Representing the New Holland corporation were Mayor Joseph H. Gooley and Roy L. Stewart and Wilbur F. Gillespie, members of Council. Kenneth R. Oesterle, clerk, represented Perry Twp., which includes a part of the New Holland district.

The new Federation of the West Indies is composed of Jamaica, Barbadoes, Antigua, Montserrat, Trinidad and Tobago, St. Kitts, Dominica, Nevis and Anguilla, Grenada, St. Lucia, St. Vincent.

Road Maintenance Men Not Spraying

Roadside spraying programs seem to be on the wane this season. Mowing is the order of the day. Weeds and brush that cannot be cut with the tractor mower are severed by men with scythes.

Richard Hedges, state highway superintendent in this county, was not available for questioning but a spokesman for the department, Ronnie McPherson, says that the spray program was not OKd which meant, "No funds for spraying". And according to him no spraying has been done this season by the State Highway Department in Pickaway County.

McPherson did not commit himself as to whether the spray program had suffered disuse because of the lack of funds or because of conservationist opposition.

He admitted that throughout the state the highway department had run into opposition and plenty of

Fall Planted Clematis Has Early Start Next Spring

BY DEAN HALLIDAY
By Central Press Association

Clematis vine can be planted in the spring, but in many areas the soil conditions in September usually are better. When planted in the fall the plants will be ready for an early start when spring comes and the result should be stronger vines and more and bigger blooms.

Whether you plant in the fall or spring, the hole should be large enough to accomodate the roots

Now Is Time To Divide Your Japanese Iris

BY DEAN HALLIDAY
By Central Press Association

Treat Japanese irises like perennials, which means moving them either in early fall or late spring.

Dividing and moving them in August or September, as many gardeners do, means they will be well established by flowering time the following spring.

These irises should be divided every three or four years to keep them producing tall flower stalks and large size blooms.

The root system of the Japanese iris is radically different from that of the German iris. Instead of a large, horizontal rhizome, the Japanese iris has an inconspicuous, upright one hidden in a mass of fine, fibrous roots. When dividing an old clump, cut it into sections having three crowns each.

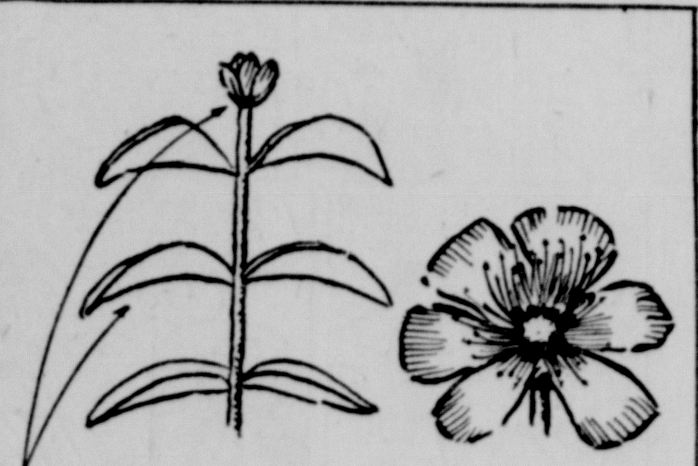

While Japanese irises can be grown in the average border, they do best where moisture is plentiful, such as beside a natural pool where they can send their roots down to water level.

These irises like rich soil, with a liberal amount of humus and rotted manure worked into it. An annual dose of fertilizer benefits them and helps to keep their blossoms from dwindling in size.

Most varieties of Japanese iris produce seed in great abundance. The seed germinates readily and from the seedling a wide range of types may be obtained.

Dwarf Shrub, Hypericum, Gives Bloom All Summer

BY DEAN HALLIDAY
By Central Press Association

Hypericum are graceful, showy plants which should be better known in northern gardens. Some are perennial herbs, while others are really low growing, summer-flowering shrubs.

Their golden flowers are single and resemble that of the wild rose. Most varieties bloom profusely summer and fall.

Hypericum, Sungold, is a handsome, patented member of this attractive family. It bears golden flowers at the end of every shoot of the summer's new growth. In fact, it flowers more freely and much longer than any of the Hypericum now in general use. Its flower is shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph together with an outline of bud and foliage.

Sungold is a hardy dwarf shrub two and one-half to three feet in diameter and some 18 to 24 inches high, oval in shape. After thorough tests it has proven its ability to withstand cold weather.

Hypericum are excellent for a flower or shrub border, or for the rock garden. The flowers, however, will last longer in partial shade than in full sun. The plants themselves thrive in sun or moderate shade.

They like a sandy soil, or a mixture of sand and peat can be used with good results.

When planting a second or third crop in the same vegetable garden area, the soil again should have thorough preparation.

Pick vegetables when they are young and tender. Swiss chard, spinach, lettuce and similar crops grow bitter with age.

Garden Gossip

There are those who think that canning is a lost art. Not Mrs. Robert Barnes who does a lot of it, we understand. It had better not be a lost art. There are seven kids in the Robert Barnes family. The Barnes live near Williamsport.

Mrs. Winfred Bidwell, out Williamsport way, whose canned goods do so well at the fair is busy canning again this summer, according to Mrs. Leora Sayre, home demonstration agent.

Sharon Sharrett, Route 1, Kingston, decided on a canning project this year for her 4-H work. It turned out to be a very eye-catching project, Mrs. Sayre said.

The Robert Schmidts, Route 56, have a vitex macrophylla planted on either side of their house in front. Sometimes we think a vitex in full bloom is almost as pretty as a lilac bush.

We heard a terrible story when we visited in Webster Groves, Mo., for a day or two last week. In University City, one of St. Louis's suburbs, a new race of squirrels has put in its appearance. They are squirrels without bushy tails. And they are not a bit cute.

Webster Groves people are quite put out with their own squirrels. The squirrels (they still have bushy tails in Webster and are very cute and sassy) have taken a liking to tomatoes. Backyard tomato crops are perfect failures. The squirrels get the tomatoes before the gardeners do.

Just to get a rise out of him, we asked Floyd Bartley what he thought about wholesale weed spraying. "Just what everybody else does," he said, "Who wants to see a lot of old dead brush and bushes?" Bartley was put out that railways were spraying their right-of-ways. He says more wild flowers are found along railroad beds than any other place nowadays.

Mrs. Turney Pontius and I split a package of those expensive marigolds from Burpees. They are called New Climax marigolds. You only receive 50 seeds for a dollar. We counted the seeds out very carefully. Mr. Burpee had done likewise. There were exactly 50 in the package. I never raised such whopping big marigolds before. So help me they're four inches in diameter.

In the fall flower arrangers use something called Mare's Tail for their line material. It's supposed to grow wild along the roadside. It is certainly one plant I do not recognize.

The Claude Crawfords on the Heffner Rd. have planted zinnias out near their mail box. It makes a very pleasing rural picture. We think it would be nice if all farmers planted flowers at their mail boxes. The Crawfords mail box is pretty enough to make a magazine cover for a farm magazine.

Well, Gene Gildersleeve, Route 4, Circleville says blackberry picking is getting pretty slim these days. He's made his last rounds. But he managed to get enough blackberries for a couple of pies Wednesday. Not many summers

Mr. Brehmer Discusses . . .

That you try some old-fashioned single tuberose next year in your garden. Easily grown from bulbs treated like gladiolus, not subject to disease or to insect damage, and not expensive to buy and the bulbs multiplying each year, you soon have enough to share with the neighbors.

The bulbs are planted soon as the ground warms up, and plantings about two weeks apart give a succession of bloom. Flowers on tall stems keep well when cut and like orange blossoms and gardenias, tuberose have a pleasing odor of their own to scent up the room.

The white tubular flowers are frequently used in wedding bouquets instead of stephanotis. The bulbs, dug before frost, are stored in average basement conditions, over winter.

This is the time of year to decide upon and order the peonies you admired and wished that you had, last spring. Peonies like a good share of sunlight best, and old clumps can be dug soon and divided.

Care must be used to make sure that the new eyes for next years growth are not planted more than an inch to an inch and a half under the surface of the ground.

When used for cut flowers, the buds are in a tight ball, for best keeping quality.

find people still picking blackberries in late August.

Don Minor says his mother, Mrs. Em Minor, Route 1, Kingston, still cans quite a bit, but she prefers storing her surplus vegetables in the deep freeze. Deep freezing, no doubt, is the main reason that canning's not so popular these days.

Our city kinfolks were mighty disappointed in the farm vegetable garden when they visited recently. The flowers around here are fairly well under control, but the horseweed is ten feet high in the vegetable garden.

You Can Have Blooming Shrubs In the Late Summer Months

Why not start your collection of July and August blooming shrubs this year? There are a nice number of shrubs now available that will give plenty of color in these late summer months. And, after all, these are the months when you are really out in the garden enjoying it.

We say start your collection because actually there are enough shrubs for this season to impoverish the average gardener if he tries to come by them all at once.

The most common shrub, but nonetheless colorful and trustworthy, is the althea or Rose of Sharon. Althea will start blooming in July and continue to frost. It is not at all particular as to requirements—loves sun, with stands drought and grows to an ultimate height of 10 or 12 feet. The named varieties come in a clear pink, blue with lavender cast, pure white and mixture of white and red.

Altheas will come from seed. Seedling plants are often muddy colors.

Franklinia alatamaha is a rare shrub with magnolia like blossoms from August to frost. Its ultimate height is 15 or 20 feet. It is said to have brilliant color in the fall as well as lovely blossoms.

THE HIBISCUS or mallow grows four to five feet tall and has pink, red or white flowers (hollyhock shaped) in great profusion. They like full sun and plenty of water but do surprisingly well in dry summers.

The new super giants are gorgeous with blooms measuring from 10 to 12 inches. This shrub dies down each year but it's large and beautiful by July.

The buddleia or butterfly bush adds color to the garden at this time. The flowers are spikes. Recently hybridizers have enlarged the color list. They now come in lavenders, wine red, orchid, white, pink and empire blue. This also dies down each year but by July is six or seven feet high.

For cool beauty in a blooming shrub the Vitex or chaste tree tops the list. This shrub has drak green foliage. The leaves are many-fingered. The flower spikes are a pleasing lilac blue and the shrub has a peppery, herby fragrance. It grows ten feet high often dying

Quail Lover Takes Gibe At Hunters

"It certainly doesn't take a very big man to shoot a quail, does it?" "As a child on a farm, I could never understand why men could shoot such a lovely creature. And in time my father came to feel the same way and ever after no one shot them on our land."

"If the quail provided any real food there might be some excuse for open season on them but the absurdly small bit of edible meat eliminates that reasoning."

"If one of these 'Big Hunters' would take the trouble to watch, really watch a Bob White on a summer day in his natural habitat and listen to his clear beautiful call across the fields and hedges, he would never slaughter them again."

"It has been verified that the quail is the farmers' friend—eating insects in unbelievable numbers and most landowners do not want the quail on the game bird list."

"The quail needs a protector like the late Billie Ireland who almost single handed kept the little bird off the game bird list in Ohio for many years."

"We have so few natural things of beauty in our state at this time that I think that it would be a crime to allow the destruction of even one of them."

CHECK THE DIFFERENCE

SOMETIME AGO ONE OF MY CUSTOMERS SAID "WHY DON'T YOU GET A NEW PICTURE, ARE YOU TRYING TO MAKE PEOPLE THINK YOU LOOK YOUNG". WELL I HAD A NEW PICTURE TAKEN AND THEY ARE SHOWN ABOVE WITH THE DATES. I REALLY DO NOT SEE TOO MUCH DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THEM — BUT — RECENTLY WE HAVE BEEN UP TO SEE THE 1959 BUICK AND IT WILL BE A REVOLUTION TO SEE THE CHANGE THAT HAS BEEN MADE IN IT. IT WILL BE ANNOUNCED ON SEPTEMBER 19th. WITH AN ENTIRELY NEW DESIGN AND NAMES. IT HAS MORE ROOM, NEW TRIMS AND COMFORT, COMPLETELY NEW STYLING, NEW TRANSMISSIONS, NEW MOTORS, IN FACT IT IS A COMPLETELY NEW CAR. YOU WILL SEE A GREAT DIFFERENCE IN MOTOR CAR DESIGN AND I AM SURE YOU WILL WANT TO SEE IT BEFORE YOU BUY ANY CAR. WE INVITE YOU TO STOP IN. YOU WILL SEE A BIG DIFFERENCE IN IT. WE ALSO WISH TO ANNOUNCE THAT WE HAVE THE FRANCHISE FOR THE RAMBLER AND WILL HAVE THEM ON DISPLAY AT ANNOUNCEMENT TIME.
